Embassy, Miss Sharon Lee (who wanted [redacted] advice about a Venezuelan friend of hers), Mr. Shulman, and then Bill Pawley, who talked about his forthcoming trip to India in connection with a monazite project. After his departure, I discussed this further with Gordon Arneson.

I then had a long talk with Dick Eldridge, who is here for a few days, following which John Snyder came in and spent an hour with me.

Tonight, we had an [redacted] enjoyable dinner at Clover and Allen Dulles' house.
